SOURCE

1. The Kwangsi provincial Public Security Department has ordered all former Nationalist military officers, former employees of KMT organizations and their families who are living in major Kwangsi cities, and who are natives of other provinces, either to return to their native places or to join a Chinese Communist "Labor Reform Group." Up to 15 February 1952 those who had left included the followings:
  - a. Nanning
337 KMT military officers and former KMT employees
726 dependents
  - b. Chennankuan (106-41, 21-58)
220 KMT military officers and former KMT employees
635 dependents
  - c. P'inghsiang (106-44, 22-06)
484 persons
  - d. Lungchou (106-56, 22-22)
558 persons
2. All of the above had been registered but not sentenced when the Chinese Communists enforced suppression of anti-Communist elements in 1951. The majority of those repatriated were laborers classified as "wooden cart workers" and "transport workers."
